

Senate Banking and House Financial Services Committee and Subcommittee Leadership in the 117th Congress

The Senate Banking Committee and House Financial Services Committee hold jurisdiction over the structured finance industry and industry regulators. Their calendars have been busy as they work to address committee business such as nominations, financial policy and oversight. Here is a listing of Committee and Subcommittee leadership in the 117th Congress.

These congressional committees are uniquely positioned to work on legislation that can impact the structured finance industry. We continue to engage with Members and their staff on the discontinuation of LIBOR, Housing Finance, ESG, Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and other policy priorities for the industry.
